OUTLINE

Aging can feel like a cascade of losses: loss of loved ones, independence, and capacities. But the losses older adults face can also lead more deeply into life, especially when we are intentional about engaging the questions surrounding meaning and purpose. Join Chaplain Jenny Schroedel, who facilitates grief groups across Presbyterian Homes & Services sites, as we explore ways to deepen the conversation around meaning and purpose, creating opportunities for growth, resilience, joy, and transformation. This webinar will include time for questions and discussion about the topic.

OBJECTIVES

- Identify factors that can help or hinder older adults' resiliency.
- Recognize the connection between resilience, a sense of meaning and purpose, and spiritual, emotional, and physical health.
- Engage older adults in honest conversations about meaning and purpose for their lives.

FACULTY

Jenny Schroedel, Chaplain, Optage Hospice, Presbyterian Homes and Services, Roseville, MN

Optage Hospice Chaplain Jenny Schroedel facilitates grief groups across Presbyterian Homes & Services sites and in the larger community. She lived in Hawaii for a decade, before returning home to Minnesota. In Hawaii, she worked as Director of Bereavement Services and helped found Hospice of Kona's Maluhi Grief Center. Jenny is also an author, most recently of Naming The Child: Hope-filled Reflections on Miscarriage, Stillbirth and Infant Death.
